

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES AND RIGHTS

WHAT IS PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION (PHI)?

Protected Health Information (PHI) is information that would enable a person reading or hearing it to identify you individually, referred to as “individually identifiable health information”, that relates to:

- your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition;
- the provision of health care to you;
- the past, present, or future payment for the provision of health care or services to you; or
- your Genetic information.

Your Information. Your Rights. Our Responsibilities.

This Notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. This Notice applies to Gracepoint, their Business Associates and Subcontractors.

-PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY-

Your Rights

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights.

This section explains your rights and some of the responsibilities to help you.

- Get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record
 - You, or your designee, can ask to see or get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record and other health information we have about you. Your request must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.
 - We will provide a copy or a summary of your health information, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee.
 - We are not required to allow you to see or copy psychotherapy notes, information prepared for use in legal actions or proceedings, or where access is prohibited by law.
- Ask us to correct your medical record
 - You can ask us to correct health information about you that you think is incorrect or incomplete. Your request must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.
 - We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days
- Receive breach notifications
 - You will receive notification if there is a breach of your unsecured protected health information (PHI).

- Request confidential communications

- You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, if you are an outpatient client, you could request we contact you at your workplace or via email) or send mail to a different address. Your request must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.
- We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days.

- Ask us to limit what we use or share

- You can ask us not to use or share certain health information. We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care.
- You can ask us not to share certain health information with family members. We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care.
- These requests must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.

- Choose someone to act for you

- If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information. Your request must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.
- We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.

- Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared Information

- You can ask for a list (Accounting of Disclosures) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why. (Note: the list will not include any uses or disclosures made before April 14, 2003.) Your request must be in writing to the service provider that maintains your records.
- We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one Accounting of Disclosures a year for free but may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within twelve months.

- Get a copy of this Privacy Notice

- You can ask for a paper copy of this Notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the Notice electronically. Please contact the office, facility or program where you receive services and we will provide you with a paper copy promptly.

- File a complaint if you feel your rights are violated

- You can complain if you feel we have violated your rights by sending a letter to the Gracepoint HIPAA Privacy Officer, 5707 N. 22nd Street, Tampa, Florida 33610 or calling 813-236-3594, or faxing to 813-236-3597.
- You can file a complaint with the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to 200 Independence Avenue, S. W., Washington, D. C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/complaints/.
- We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.

Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share.

If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions

- In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:
 - Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care.
 - Share information in a disaster relief situation.

If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest.

We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.

- In these cases, we never share your information unless you give us written permission:
 - Marketing purposes.
 - Sale of your information.
 - Most sharing of psychotherapy notes.

- In the case of fundraising:
 - We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.
