HELPFUL INFORMATION FOR OUTPATIENT ADULT AND CHILDREN

The program is intended to help you regain your role and independence in the community so that you may live a meaningful and purposeful life reflective of the person you are and not the diagnosis you are given. The program is a strength-based recovery program that places your needs and choices at the center of the services you receive.

- Parents/Guardians/Foster Care case managers must be present for all appointments for children receiving services to ensure that all appropriate paperwork is reviewed and signed.

- As part of our policy, Gracepoint's psychiatrists and APRNs do not routinely prescribe benzodiazepines (anti-anxiety agents such as Xanax, Librium, Klonopin, Valium, etc.) or stimulants (such as Adderall, Ritalin, Concerta, Vyvanse, etc.).
- Individuals are not permitted to bring items that may be used as weapons into our facility.
- Arrive 15 minutes early to all scheduled appointments. Should you arrive late to your scheduled appointment, you may not be seen by your provider if they are heavily booked. If you cannot be seen, you may choose the Walk-In clinic as an option or reschedule your appointment.

MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVES

INTRODUCTION

Florida law supports the right of any person to decide what medical and mental health treatment he/she/they will receive, unless the person is determined by a judge or doctor to lack the competence to make those decisions.

If you think there's a chance you may be hospitalized in the future and unable to make decisions about your treatment, you can make those decisions NOW, while you're able. This can be done through a document called an ADVANCE DIRECTIVE, which lets you clearly state your wishes for future care. You can also name a trusted friend or family member as a Health Care Surrogate to ensure your wishes are followed if the need arises.

WHAT IS A MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

A Mental Health Advance Directive is a legal document where you can outline how you want to receive mental health care in case you ever get to a point where you're unable to make those decisions for yourself.

While your family, friends, and mental health professionals can help you figure out what's best, it's ultimately your choice about what goes into the document.

An Advance Directive should appoint a Health Care Surrogate to make mental health care decisions on your behalf if you're ever unable to make those decisions yourself. You can also designate an Alternate Surrogate to take over if the primary surrogate is unavailable or unable to fulfill their role.

An Advance Directive does NOT:

- Require a specific form
- Need to be prepared by an attorney
- Require a notary for signature of the person, witnesses, or health care surrogate

WHY SHOULD I HAVE A MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

It is a great way for you to manage your care and advocate for yourself. It allows you to plan for a future time when your ability to make decisions may be temporarily lost.

An Advance Directive lets you pick someone you trust to make choices for you if needed. This person, called a Health Care Surrogate, could be appointed by the court as your guardian advocate under the Baker Act, if necessary.

If you ever have a guardian appointed by the court, the Health Care Surrogate you name will continue to make all health care decisions for you, unless the court changes the Surrogate's authority.

HOW CAN I CHANGE MY MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

A competent person can change or revoke an Advance Directive at any time by:

- Signed & dating written statement revoking the directive
- Destroying the Advance Directive
- Telling others, you want to change or revoke
- Doing a new Advance Directive
- Stating a time of termination on the Advance Directive

WHAT IS A HEALTH CARE SURROGATE?

A Health Care Surrogate is the person you choose to make treatment decisions for you, based on what you've outlined in your Advance Directive or what they believe you would want if you were able to make those decisions yourself.

The Health Care Surrogate can also access your clinical records and consent to the release of information and medical records to appropriate persons and apply to public benefits for you.

Unless you give the Surrogate permission in writing or the Surrogate gets the court's permission, the Surrogate can't consent to electro-convulsive therapy (ECT), experimental treatments, or certain other procedures.

The Surrogate also cannot have you admitted to a facility on a voluntary basis. However, if you are admitted on an involuntary basis, the Surrogate may make treatment decisions for you, if you are determined to be incapacitated.

WHO WOULD BE A GOOD HEALTH CARE SURROGATE FOR ME?

If you don't name your own Health Care Surrogate, the person who may ultimately decide what treatment you receive may not be a person you trust to carry out your wishes. The Health Care Surrogate and Alternate you choose for carrying out your wishes should be people you know well and trust with this responsibility.

You should not be pressured in any way to name a specific person as your Health Care Surrogate or Alternate. The decision is yours alone. The person should be:

- A competent adult, able to understand and willing to accept the responsibility
- Easy to contact and reasonably available to be involved in your treatment
- Capable of advocating for you
- Able & willing to speak with health care providers, and
- Able to understand the health care information provided to make decisions

WHO SHOULD HAVE COPIES OF MY COMPLETED MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

Make sure your completed Mental Health Advance Directive can be located in case of an emergency, consider putting it on file with your:

- Health Care Surrogate/Alternate
- Family
- Physician
- Case Manager
- Mental health facility
- Any other trusted person or organization

WHAT IF I DISAGREE WITH DECISIONS MADE BY MY HEALTH CARE SURROGATE?

You, your family, the health care facility, the physician, or any other interested person affected by the Surrogate's decisions can ask the court to intervene if:

- Decisions are in accord with your known desires;
- The Advance Directive is vague;
- The surrogate was not properly named or the designation of the Surrogate has become incapable of serving due illness or incapacity;
- Surrogate has abused powers;
- You have sufficient capacity to make your own health care decisions

WHERE CAN I FIND MORE INFORMATION ABOUT MENTAL HEALTH ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

Contact the Department of Children and Families (877) 595-0384 or go to their website www.myflfamilies.com.

Triage also includes the collection of basic demographic information needed for opening a clinical record for the client.

Intake Evaluation: A thorough bio-psychosocial assessment of the client's needs is conducted by non-medical clinical staff during the intake evaluation, which occurs on the day the client has a clinical record opened to the program. In addition, clients may be referred to a medical direct-service provider for a psychiatric evaluation. The outpatient program also completes updated bio-psychosocial assessments annually.

Individualized Treatment Plans: A structured, goal-oriented schedule of services is developed jointly by the client (and the client's legal guardian if s/he has one), the treatment team, and the family or other ancillary service providers per the client. The plan contains written, measurable, treatment-related goals, objectives and interventions. The plan also outlines the strengths, needs, and barriers towards achieving the long-term views. Services must be deemed medically necessary and prescribed for the client on an individual basis based upon findings of the assessment and treatment planning services. Services and service frequency should accurately reflect the needs, goals and abilities of each client. The Stage of Change is also indicated in relation to mental health and substance use disorders.

Individualized Treatment Plan Reviews: This must be conducted at least every six months or earlier based on treatment updates to ensure that services and treatment-related goals and objectives continue to be appropriate to meet the client's needs and to assess progress and continued need for services. Appropriate modifications to the treatment plan must be done based on the review findings. This review shall include the treatment team, the client, family, and any other ancillary service providers per client's choice.

Individual therapy: Includes any verbal dialogue between a mental health professional and client on a one-to-one basis in order to facilitate problem solving, conflict resolution, insight development and coping skills, build self-worth, and basic needs skills used to decrease the mental health symptoms and improve the client's quality of life.

Group therapy: Includes any psychotherapeutic activity in which two or more clients engage with at least one staff facilitator to foster constructive interaction and feedback among clients and staff, increase education, and to promote the client's psychosocial growth toward identified treatment goals and objectives.

Couples/Marriage therapy: A therapeutic intervention with at least one significant other.

Family counseling: Focuses on exploring family dynamics and systems that contribute to the client's problems, improving family communication patterns, and reintegrating the client into the family system, as appropriate.

Psychiatric evaluations: A comprehensive evaluation provided by the assigned Psychiatrist or Advanced Practice Register Nurse (APRN) that investigates the client's clinical status, including the presenting problem, the history of the present illness, previous psychiatric, physical and medication history, relevant personal and family history, personal strengths and assets and a mental status examination. The evaluation concludes with a summary of findings, diagnostic formulation, including prognosis and treatment recommendations.

Medication reviews: A Psychiatrist or APRN reviews with the client his/her medication regime, performs an assessment of the presence or absence of adverse side effects or poly-pharmaceutical effects and communicates with the client any information relevant to their medication regime or compliance issues. Data regarding the effectiveness of psychotropic medications, complications or compliance issues is forwarded by the clinical staff to the appropriate psychiatrist so that corresponding medication adjustments can be made as needed.

MEDICATIONS AND YOU

Medication cannot “cure.” What it does do is assist the body’s natural defenses and processes to promote recovery. All effective medications produce desirable changes in the body, but these same medications may also cause undesirable adverse reactions or side effects. Likewise, a particular medication will not be useful to everyone. The complexity of the human body, individual responses (in different people and in the same person under different circumstances), past and present health, age and gender all influence how well a medication works.

Some suggestions for wise medication use apply to all medications:

Provide medical practitioner with accurate information. Remember to always give your medical provider a complete list of all medical history, your current medications, allergies or adverse reactions to medications, and your current medical plans. Be sure to mention your progress with or concerns about your treatment with current medications. Tell your doctor about any unexpected new symptoms you have while taking medication.

Know your medications. Learn the medication’s generic, as well as brand name, your dosage, and the times you are to take your medication. Be familiar with all the medication’s effects (including its “side effects”). Resources for information are: your medical practitioner, pharmacist, books in your public library and the Internet.

Never take medications other than those prescribed. Medications don’t always fall into the category of “taking more increases the benefits.” Some medications act differently at different dosages, and only your medical provider should make dose adjustments. The label on your medication package will give specific instructions for dosages and schedules. You should also request a supplemental medication information fact sheet from your pharmacist to supplement the information on the medication label.

Avoid mood altering substances. Alcohol, cocaine, marijuana or other mood-altering substances may prevent your medication from being effective and can cause life-threatening interactions with your medications. Avoid the use of these substances.

Check your prescription bottle before taking any medication. One of the more common ways people mismanage their medications is to pick up the wrong medication bottle and take a pill before checking to make sure that it is the correct medication at the prescribed dosage. Never take medication in the dark.

Properly store your medication. Keep your medications away from moisture and heat and out of the reach of children. Safely secure them against theft. Put them where you will remember to take them at the proper time.

Don’t double dose if you miss a dose. If you should miss a dose of medication, don’t automatically double the amount of medication at the next scheduled dosage. Consult your information/fact sheet about how to handle missed dosages of your medication. If you should need to change the dosage schedule, consult your medical care provider.

Follow diet instructions when you take your medications. Some medications work better on a full stomach; others on an empty stomach.

Notify your medical care provider of medical status changes. If you should experience any changes in your medical status (pregnancy, development of a medical condition, pending surgeries, etc.), notify your medical care provider immediately to make sure that your medications are safe to continue using. If you are seeing a mental health practitioner, as well as a medical doctor, make sure you have authorized communication between them about your care.

FOLLOWING YOUR MEDICAL CARE PROVIDER'S RECOMMENDATION

It is important to follow your medical care provider's recommendations in order to benefit the most from treatment. You will be asked to complete a treatment plan when receiving medical treatment. A treatment plan is made with your input and works towards the goal of improving your health and ability to function. Patients that do not follow their provider's recommendation often fail in their treatment. Below are some examples of recommendations that may be difficult to follow, and what you can do:

- If you do not understand the instructions, ask your provider to explain it again. Sometimes it is difficult to believe that the instruction or recommendation will make a difference. If you are not sure how it will make a difference, ask your provider.
- Recommendations for lifestyle changes (abstaining from alcohol, dieting, exercise, etc.) are sometimes very difficult to follow through with. Let your provider know if you are struggling – he/she may have some tips to help.
- Long-term treatment regimens (such as continuing treatment for chronic conditions) can be very discouraging. This is common for anybody with a long-term illness. Let your therapist and your provider know. There are support groups you can attend that may help, and talking to your therapist may also make you feel a little better.
- You may think that a lessening or disappearance of symptoms indicates that your medications are no longer necessary. This actually means they are working like they are supposed to. This is a great step. Now following the recommendations of your provider becomes very important to make sure you continue to feel better.
- Side effects of medications may be unpleasant or uncomfortable. This is common, but still not something you probably look forward to. Talk to your provider about ways to manage these side effects. Sometimes they will go away; other times there are ways to make them not seem so bad. Make sure you report any side effects each time you talk to your provider.
- Cost of treatment and medications is financially difficult. There may be other options to receive treatment and medications that could be within your financial reach. Ask your medical provider.
- Failure to keep appointments or follow through with recommended laboratory tests or medical physicals can be detrimental to your progress and long-term results. Try as hard as you can to keep your appointments, as this is the best time to report what is happening to people who can hopefully help.
- Attitudes, beliefs and perceptions of others can keep you from being committed to treatment recommendations. Remember, you and your provider need to be the ones to make the decisions about you. Don't let others make these important decisions for you.

In order for your treatment to be effective, you and your health care providers must work as a team. If you do not follow their instructions and communicate with your provider about how things are going, you cannot expect that the treatment will be effective. If you have reservations or fears about treatment, discuss them with your medical care provider. There are several groups available to provide you with both information and support to address your concerns about your condition and its treatment.

BENZODIAZEPINES AND STIMULANT MEDICATIONS

Gracepoint does not routinely prescribe benzodiazepines and stimulant medications. If you are prescribed one of these classes of medications, you will be required to review and sign the "Benzodiazepines and Stimulant Treatment Contract". See a copy of it below:

Benzodiazepines are a class of medications used to treat anxiety and other disorders and consist of Valium (Diazepam), Ativan (Lorazepam), Xanax (Alprazolam), Klonopin (Clonazepam), Librium (Chlordiazepoxide), Restoril (Temazepam), Serax (Oxazepam), and others.

Stimulants are a class of medications used to treat attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), narcolepsy, and other disorders. These medications include Adderall (Amphetamine/Dextroamphetamine), Ritalin (Methylphenidate), Concerta (Methylphenidate), Vyvanse (Lisdexamfetamine), Dexedrine (Dextroamphetamine), and others.

I freely and voluntarily agree to accept this treatment contract, as follows:

General Agreement

1. I agree that the medications prescribed to me, whether benzodiazepines or stimulants, are my responsibility, and I will keep them in a safe, secure place. I understand that it is a felony to keep these medications outside their properly labeled containers as they are controlled substances under the Controlled Substances Act 1970 21 U.S.C. §801 et seq. & sec 1308 Title 21 (CFR) Part 1300.

Acknowledgment of Risks

1. I understand that both benzodiazepines and stimulants may be abused and that misuse may have serious consequences:
 - o Benzodiazepines: Potential consequences include sedation, memory loss, unconsciousness, and death.
 - o Stimulants: Potential consequences include increased heart rate, high blood pressure, agitation, hallucinations, and risk of addiction or overdose.
2. If I lose my medication, I agree that it will not be replaced regardless of the reasons for such loss.
3. I understand that stopping these medications abruptly may lead to serious withdrawal symptoms:
 - o Benzodiazepines: May cause seizures, panic attacks, hallucinations, and psychosis.
 - o Stimulants: May cause fatigue, depression, or other withdrawal symptoms.
4. If I wish to stop taking these medications, I will consult my treating provider and follow a supervised tapering plan if necessary. I agree to contact my provider immediately if withdrawal symptoms occur unexpectedly.

Prescriptions and Office Visits

1. I agree that my medication or prescriptions will only be provided during regular office visits. Any missed office visits will result in my not being able to get medication until the next scheduled visit.

Multiple Providers and Medications

1. I agree not to obtain benzodiazepines, stimulants, or any other controlled substances from any other providers, pharmacies, or sources without informing my treating provider. Doing so may constitute fraud, a felony punishable by a prison sentence. I will bring any medications being prescribed by another provider with me to the clinic and register them.

2. I understand that my treating provider will regularly check the Florida Drug Monitoring Program, which provides information on all controlled substances prescribed to me in Florida over the previous year.

Mixing Substances

1. I understand the risks of mixing these medications with other substances:
 - Benzodiazepines: Mixing with alcohol, sedative drugs, or opioids can be dangerous or fatal.
 - Stimulants: Mixing with alcohol, other stimulants, or medications affecting heart rate or blood pressure can have serious or fatal consequences.
2. I agree to inform my provider if I am prescribed other medications and to avoid alcohol and recreational substances while taking these medications.

Dosage and Usage

1. I agree to take my medication as prescribed and not to alter the dosage or frequency without consulting my provider. In particular:
 - I will not increase or decrease the dosage of my medications without provider approval.
 - I will not take my stimulants in a manner inconsistent with the prescribed purpose (e.g., to enhance performance or stay awake).

Sharing or Selling Medications

1. I agree not to sell, share, or give my medications to any other person for any reason. Doing so is a felony and may result in serious legal consequences for me.

Compliance Monitoring

1. I understand that I may be:
 - Drug tested at any time.
 - Asked to bring my medications for a pill count.
2. A positive drug test for a substance for which I do not have a valid prescription, or an incorrect pill count, may lead to termination of my prescriptions.

Release of Information

1. I agree to sign a release of information for any other provider who is currently or who has recently treated me, especially if they are prescribing benzodiazepines, stimulants, narcotic pain medications (Percocet, Vicodin, Oxycodone, Dilaudid, etc.), muscle relaxants (Soma, Flexeril), or other medications which may interact with my prescriptions.

Non-Compliance

Failure to comply with this contract may lead to my treating provider deciding that benzodiazepines or stimulants can no longer be safely prescribed for me. In this case, my provider may discontinue the medication and discuss alternative treatment options, including drug detoxification and other non-controlled medications.

MEDICATION AND SUBSTANCE USE ADVISORY

Use Medications as Prescribed

Medications should only be taken as directed by your provider. Misuse of alcohol, street drugs, or addictive prescription medications can:

- Interfere with treatment and reduce medication effectiveness.
- Worsen mental health symptoms.
- Increase serious health risks, including dependence, overdose, and withdrawal effects.

Commonly Misused Substances

Some substances that may negatively impact treatment include:

- Marijuana
- Benzodiazepines/Tranquilizers (e.g., Xanax, Valium, Klonopin)
- Stimulants (e.g., Cocaine, Amphetamines, Adderall, Ritalin)
- Narcotic Pain Medications & Opiates (e.g., Heroin, Morphine, Fentanyl, Percocet)
- Hallucinogens (e.g., LSD, PCP, Mushrooms)

Addictive Prescription Medications

Some prescription medications can be addictive but are safe and helpful when used correctly. When prescribed by a doctor for the right condition and taken as directed, they can effectively treat issues like anxiety, ADHD, sleep disorders, and pain.

If you are working to manage your mood, thoughts, or mental health, avoid using these substances unless they are prescribed to you. Misusing them can interfere with your treatment and make your medications less effective.

Need Help? We Can Support You

If you have difficulty discontinuing substances, Gracepoint offers counseling and support groups to assist. Speak with your healthcare provider or therapist for more information.

OPIOID SAFETY AND OVERDOSE PREVENTION PLAN

WHAT ARE OPIOIDS?

Opioids are a type of drug that includes:

- Prescription painkillers, such as:
 - Morphine
 - OxyContin®
 - Dilaudid®
 - Percocet®
 - Vicodin®
 - Demerol
 - Codeine
 - Hydrocodone
 - Hydromorphone
- Fentanyl (legal or illegal) and heroin

RISK FACTORS FOR OVERDOSE

Physical Health: Opioids can slow breathing. If you have asthma or other breathing problems, you are at high risk for overdose. Those with liver and/or kidney problems or who are HIV positive are also at increased risk.

Previous Overdose: If you have had a nonfatal overdose in the past, you have an increased risk of a fatal overdose in the future.

Mixing Drugs: Many overdoses occur when opioids are mixed with alcohol, benzodiazepines (sedatives and/or anti-anxiety medicine) or other substances for medical and non-medical reasons.

Tolerance: If you take a break from using opioids, restarting at the same dose may cause an overdose, so please know you will have a much lower tolerance for opioids when you are following and participating in an abstinence-based treatment program or if you were recently discharged from a medication-assisted treatment program. Having a lower tolerance for opioids will make you more likely to overdose.

PREVENTING AN OVERDOSE

Explore ways to manage pain that do not include opioids.

Use only prescription painkillers prescribed to you by a medical professional.

Take opioids around other people who can respond if there is a medical emergency.

Consider using a fentanyl test strip before taking or injecting any drugs.

Dispose of any unused opioids at a drop box located at many pharmacies and police stations.

Store opioids in a secure place to prevent access by people not prescribed the medication, e.g., a locked container such as a lock box.

RECOGNIZING AN OVERDOSE

An opioid overdose can take hours to occur.

A person who is having an overdose may experience slow breathing (less than one breath every five seconds), shallow breathing, or no breathing.

Other signs and symptoms of an overdose include:

- Nodding out; snoring noises while asleep.
- Vomiting.
- Blue or pale lips, skin or fingernails.
- No response when you rub your knuckles in the middle of their chest (see right) or shake their shoulders.
- Pale or clammy face.
- The black circle in the center of the colored part of the eye (pupil) is very small, sometimes called "pinpoint pupils," in someone difficult to awaken.

DO'S AND DON'TS WHEN RESPONDING TO AN OVERDOSE

- DO attend to the person's breathing and cardiovascular support needs by administering oxygen or performing rescue breathing and/or chest compressions.
- DO administer Naloxone and use a second dose, if no response to the first dose.
- DO put the person in the "recovery position" on the side, if you must leave the person unattended for any reason.
- DO stay with the person and keep the person warm

- ✘ DON'T slap or forcefully try to stimulate the person; it will only cause further injury. If you cannot wake the person by shouting, rubbing your knuckle on the sternum (center of the chest or rib cage), or light pinching, the person may be unconscious.
- ✘ DON'T put the person into a cold bath or shower. This increases the risk of falling, drowning, or going into shock.
- ✘ DON'T inject the person with any substance (e.g. saltwater, milk, stimulants). The only safe and appropriate treatment is Naloxone.
- ✘ DON'T try to make the person vomit drugs that may have been swallowed. Choking or inhaling vomit into the lungs can cause a fatal injury.

WHAT IS NALOXONE?

Naloxone (also known as NARCAN®) is a drug used to reverse an opioid overdose. Everyone who uses opioids is at risk for an overdose. If you or someone you know uses opioids, carry naloxone. It can be lifesaving. However, always get emergency medical help right away in any cases of known or suspected overdose. NARCAN® Nasal Spray is not a substitute for emergency medical care. Administer in accordance with the Instructions for Use.

- It stops the effects of opioids on the brain and body.
- It has no effect on someone who has not taken opioids.
- It is safe for children, pregnant women and even pets.
- It has no potential for misuse.
- It has minimal or no side effects.
- It wears off in 30-90 minutes.

Storage: Store naloxone away from extreme heat or cold and keep away from direct sunlight.

Expiration Date: Check expiration date on the packaging of naloxone on a regular basis (once per month) and return for a refill if it's expired.

Naloxone is like a seat belt. You hope you won't need it, but you should have it on hand as a safety precaution just in case you do.

WHAT IS NARCAN®?

Narcan® is the brand name for the nasal spray version of Naloxone. Although Narcan® Nasal Spray is a prescription medication, you can purchase Narcan® Nasal Spray directly from a pharmacist. Your insurance may cover all or part of the cost. Let Narcan® Nasal Spray be there to help you. If there are prescription opioids in your home, then Narcan® Nasal Spray should be there too.

To learn how to use and how and where to access, please visit the site below.

<https://www.narcan.com/patients/how-to-get-narcan>

HOW SHOULD I USE NARCAN NASAL SPRAY?

Read the Instructions for Use at the end of the Patient Information leaflet for detailed use of NARCAN® Nasal Spray.

- Use NARCAN® Nasal Spray exactly as prescribed by your healthcare provider
- Each NARCAN® Nasal Spray contains only 1 dose of medicine and cannot be reused
- Lay the person on their back. Support their neck with your hand and allow the head to tilt back before giving NARCAN® Nasal Spray
- NARCAN® Nasal Spray should be given into one nostril
- If additional doses are needed, give NARCAN® Nasal Spray in the other nostril.

Talk to your loved ones about a care plan in case of overdose.

Call 911 immediately if you know or suspect someone is experiencing an overdose.

For any sign of overdose, give Naloxone. Go to WWW.SAMHSA.GOV for more information.

Note: Fentanyl is a high potency opioid created in multiple forms for medical and non-medical reasons. It is becoming common for fentanyl to be mixed with other illegal drugs. Use caution when taking any illegal drugs.

INFECTION CONTROL

Gracepoint is committed to promoting good physical health as well as good mental health. In keeping with this commitment, we feel that it is important to address infectious diseases that are prominent in today's society; diseases to which we all can be susceptible. The following information is presented to help prevent infectious diseases and encourage you to seek appropriate medical treatment, if you are concerned. This information is not all-inclusive. We encourage you to get more information from the resources listed at the end of this document.

Gracepoint has a policy and procedure for infection control. In summary, the policy states that Gracepoint will identify and handle potential and actual infectious diseases of both employees and clients.

The Nursing Director will receive all reports of infectious illness, both clients and employees, and make recommendations to the CEO/COO for handling these cases.

If you have an infectious disease, your treatment will continue until your condition deteriorates to the point where your health may be jeopardized, mental health therapy becomes problematic, or if you become a health threat to other clients and/or employees.

The agency confidentiality policy/procedures will be followed. Unauthorized disclosure of sensitive information and discrimination in decision-making regarding client care will not be permitted.

All agency responses to employees and clients with infectious diseases will comply with applicable federal, state and other relevant guidelines, including notification of proper authorities.

TYPES OF INFECTIOUS DISEASES

Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV)

- A virus that attacks the body's immune system and if not treated can lead to AIDS.
- Currently no effective cure, once people get HIV, they have it for life, but with proper medical care, HIV can be controlled to where people with HIV can live long, healthy lives and protect their partners.
- Transmitted through contact with blood, sharing needles, semen, pre-seminal fluid, rectal or vaginal fluids, and from mother to child during pregnancy, delivery, or breastfeeding. CDC reports unprotected sex with a HIV positive person is how most individuals get HIV.
- Symptoms present in a wide variety of ways that include flu-like fever, sore throat, headache, muscle aches and pains, enlarged lymph nodes in neck, armpits, and groin, skin rash, abdominal cramps, nausea, or vomiting, and/or diarrhea.
- Treatment is the use of three or more HIV medicine called antiretroviral therapy (ART) that attacks the virus at different stages in its life cycle.

Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS)

- The most severe phase of HIV infection.

In regards to HIV/AIDS, please be aware:

*Florida law requires providers involved in the care of a pregnant individual related to their conditions of pregnancy must offer STD tests, including HIV. If pregnant, is it encouraged to get tested for HIV regardless if you believe you are HIV free. Speak with your doctor or visit your local health department. If you opt-out, you must do so in writing. (F.S. ch 384)

*Minors under the age of 18 do not need parental consent for HIV or STD testing. If not consented by the minor, informing the parent of the testing, results, or treatment, or indirectly such as through health insurance is forbidden by Florida law. (F.S. ch 384)

*HIV/AIDS tests are informed, voluntary, and confidential. HIV/AIDS test results are super confidential, specific written consent is required to release such info, breach of confidentiality is a 3rd degree felony. (F.S. ch 384)

*HIV/AIDS are notifiable diseases in Florida, physicians and laboratories are required to report positive test results with patient identifiers or HIV+ diagnoses to local health authorities. (F.S. ch 384)

*It is a 3rd degree felony for a person who knowingly knows they are HIV+ and knows that it can be transmitted by sexual intercourse to have sexual intercourse with any other person, unless the other person knows you're HIV+ and has consented to sexual intercourse. If you are HIV/AIDS positive and have a partner that you engage in sexual intercourse, it is important to seek Partner Notification Services, go to your local county health department for more information. Hepatitis

Hepatitis is liver inflammation caused by a viral infection. There are 5 different viral infections that result in Hepatitis: A, B, C, D, and E.

Hepatitis A (HAV):

- The most common form of hepatitis.
- Caused by eating or drinking food or water that is contaminated with feces containing the virus.
- Symptoms include fatigue, nausea, vomiting, abdominal discomfort, dark urine, yellowing of skin and eyes (jaundice). Liver enzymes may be elevated.
- Can last from 3 weeks to 6 months.
- Treatment for Hepatitis A: Immune globulin vaccine for short- term protection and for people already exposed, bed rest and avoidance of intimate contact. For long-term protection, a Hepatitis A vaccine is recommended.

Hepatitis B (HBV):

- Caused by exposure to infected blood, unprotected sex, sharing contaminated needles, and through childbirth or breastfeeding by infected mothers.
- Symptoms include loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, fever, fatigue, abdominal pain, dark urine, or yellowing of skin and eyes (jaundice). Some people have no symptoms and infection goes away without treatment.
- If infection remains in blood cells and liver for 6 months or more chronic HBV is diagnosed. Chronic HBV can result in cirrhosis and liver cancer. People with Chronic HBV usually do not have symptoms unless liver disease is present.
- Treatment for Hepatitis B is injections of the drug Interferon Alpha.

Hepatitis C (HCV):

- Most common blood-borne infection in the United States.
- Most serious of the 5 types of hepatitis.
- Caused by exposure to infected blood through unsafe, high-risk sexual behavior, injecting or snorting drugs using contaminated equipment, getting a tattoo or body piercing with contaminated equipment, using infected person's toothbrush, razor, or anything else that has contaminated blood on it.

- Less than 5 percent of spouses of people with HCV become infected & less than 5 percent of infants are infected during childbirth. No evidence of transmission through breastfeeding.
- Symptoms may occur immediately, lie dormant for years, or never develop. More than half of infected people have no symptoms. Symptoms include loss of appetite, fatigue, nausea, fever, dark- dark urine, yellowing of skin and eyes (jaundice). Liver enzymes may be elevated.
- Treatment for Hepatitis C is 3-times weekly injections of Rebetrone (combination of antiviral drug Ribavirin with Interferon). Currently, there is no vaccine available for Hepatitis C.

Hepatitis D (HDV):

- Caused by contact with contaminated blood. Hepatitis B must be present for Hepatitis D to survive, so it is contracted at the same time as Hepatitis B or the person already has Hepatitis B.
- Symptoms are the same as Hepatitis B (loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, fever, fatigue, abdominal pain, dark urine, or yellowing of skin and eyes (jaundice), except more severe.
- Treatment for Hepatitis D is injections of the drug Interferon Alpha, which is the same treatment for Hepatitis B.

Hepatitis E (HEV):

- Caused by consuming contaminated uncooked shellfish, fruits, and vegetables, and contact with water contaminated with feces.
- Symptoms are nausea, vomiting, fever, fatigue, abdominal pain, dark urine, and yellowing of skin and eyes (jaundice).
- There is no drug treatment or vaccine available for Hepatitis E. The recommended treatment is plenty of bed rest.

Tuberculosis (TB)

- TB is a bacterial infection that can spread to any organ in the body, but is usually found in the lungs. It is transmitted through the air and can be very contagious. However, it is nearly impossible to catch TB through casual contact with an infected person.
- People who are malnourished, live in crowded conditions, or have weakened immune systems, such as those with AIDS or leukemia, are at greater risk of contracting TB.
- 90% of people infected with TB have latent infections and never develop symptoms, nor can they transmit the infection to others.
- A positive tuberculin skin test is the only way to diagnose TB.
- Symptoms begin gradually and develop over a period of weeks or months. Some people have one or two symptoms, others have several symptoms. Symptoms include coughing up thick, cloudy, sometimes bloody mucus for more than two weeks, fever and chills, fatigue, weight loss, night sweats, shortness of breath, loss of appetite, chest pain that is worse when inhaling, rapid pulse, and muscle weakness.
- Treatment is antibiotics used to kill the TB bacteria. People who have inactive TB infections are treated to prevent the infection from becoming active, which can spread.

Infection can occur if infected blood enters the body through:

- A needle stick.
- A cut or break in the skin.
- A cut or break in mucous membranes (mouth, eyes and nose).

Universal Precautions help prevent infection through the use of:

- Protective barriers such as gloves, gowns, masks and protective goggles.
- Safe work practices such as proper disposal of needles and infectious waste.

Steps you can take to protect yourself:

- Wear gloves whenever contact with blood or other infectious bodily fluid may occur.
- Wash your hands and other skin surfaces for a minimum of 15 seconds with soap and water immediately after direct contact with blood or other bodily fluids.
- Cover open wounds and broken skin.

If a work area becomes contaminated with blood:

- Notify a staff member immediately if you see any blood in an area.
- Avoid touching or going near the spill to prevent any potential exposure.
- Wait for staff to clean and decontaminate the area before returning.

What to do if you are exposed to blood or other infectious fluids:

- Wash the exposed area immediately.
- Report the incident.
- Follow procedures for testing and treatment.

Following are examples of the types of uses and disclosures of your protected health care information that Gracepoint is permitted to make once you have signed our consent form. These examples are not meant to be exhaustive, but to describe the types of uses and disclosures that may be made by our office once you have provided consent.

Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your health care with a third party that has already obtained your permission to have access to your protected health information. For example, we may disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to another agency that provides care to you. We may also disclose protected health information to other physicians who may be diagnosing and treating you when we have the necessary permission from you to disclose your protected health information.

Payment: We will use your health information for payment. This may include certain activities that your health insurance plan may undertake before it approves or pays for the health care services we recommend for you such as; making a determination of eligibility or coverage for insurance benefits, reviewing services provided to you for medical necessity, and undertaking utilization review activities. This may also include information required for payment by funders such as the Department of Children and Families, the Juvenile Welfare Board, or other funders.

For example: A bill may be sent to you or a third-party payer. The information on or accompanying the bill may include information that identifies you, as well as your diagnosis, procedures, and supplies used. Information may also be disclosed to the health plan to obtain approval for day treatment services.

Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose protected health information about you for agency operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the agency and make sure that all of our clients receive quality care.

For example: Members of the medical staff, the risk or quality improvement manager, or members of the quality improvement team may use information in your health record to assess the care and outcomes in your case and others like it. This information will then be used in an effort to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the health care and service we provide. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of health information, so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific clients are.

We may disclose your protected health information to interns or students that see clients at our agency locations. In addition, we may also call you by name in the waiting room when staff is ready to see you. We may use or disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to contact you to remind you of your appointment.

We will share your protected health information with third party business partners that perform various activities (e.g., pharmacy, billing, and transcription services) for the practice. Whenever an arrangement between our office and a business associate involves the use or disclosure of your protected health information, we will have a written contract that contains terms that will protect the privacy of your protected health information.

OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES BASED UPON WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION

Other uses and disclosures of all or part of your protected health information will be made only with your written authorization, unless otherwise permitted or required by law as described below. You have the opportunity to agree or object to the use or disclosure of protected health information. If you are not present or able to agree or object to the use or disclosure of the protected health information, then your provider may, using professional judgment, determine whether the disclosure is in your best interest. In this case, only the protected health information that is relevant to your health care will be disclosed. You may revoke this authorization, in writing, at any time.

Individuals Responsible for Your Care: Florida Statute 394.4615 states that your clinical record shall be released when the patient or the patient's guardian authorizes the release. The patient or the patient's guardian or guardian advocate may authorize the release of information and clinical records to appropriate persons to ensure the continuity of the patient's health care or mental health care. The parent, next of kin, or guardian of a person who is treated under a mental health facility or program may receive a limited summary of that person's treatment plan and current physical and mental condition. Release of such information shall be in accordance with the code of ethics of the profession involved.

Emergencies: We may use or disclose your protected health information in an emergency treatment situation. If this happens, the agency shall try to obtain your consent as soon as reasonably practicable after the delivery of treatment. If your agency staff is required by law to treat you and the agency has attempted to obtain your consent but is unable to obtain your consent, he or she may still use or disclose your protected health information to treat you.

Research: Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose protected health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of protected health information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their health information. Before we use or disclose protected health information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process, but we may, however, disclose protected health information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project, for example, to help them look for patients with specific needs, so long as the health information they review does not leave the agency. We will almost always ask for your specific permission if the researcher will have access to your name, address or other information that reveals who you are, or will be involved in your care at the agency.

OTHER PERMITTED AND REQUIRED USES AND DISCLOSURES THAT MAY BE MADE WITHOUT CONSENT, AUTHORIZATION OR OPPORTUNITY TO OBJECT

Required by Law - We may disclose your protected health information when it is required by law. The use or disclosure will be made in compliance with the law and will be limited to the relevant requirements of the law. You will be notified, as required by law, of any such uses or disclosures.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety - We may use and disclose health information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure; however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

Public Health Risks - We may disclose protected health information about you for public health activities.

These activities generally include the following:

- to prevent or control disease, injury or disability;
- to report births and deaths;
- to report reactions to medications or problems with products;
- to notify people of recalls of products they may be using;
- to notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition.

Abuse or Neglect - We may disclose your protected health information to a public health authority that is authorized by law to report the abuse or neglect of children, elders and dependent adults; to notify the appropriate government authority if we believe a client has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will only make this disclosure if you agree or when required or authorized by law.

Health Oversight - We may disclose protected health information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law, such as audits, investigations, and inspections. Oversight agencies seeking this information include government agencies that oversee the health care system, government benefit programs, other government regulatory programs and civil rights laws.

Legal Proceedings - We may disclose your protected health information when the court orders such release. In determining whether there is good cause for disclosure, the court shall weigh the need for the information to be disclosed against the possible harm of disclosure to the person to whom such information pertains. Information may be released if the patient is represented by counsel and the records are needed by the patient's counsel for adequate representation. (Florida Statute 394.4615)

Law Enforcement - A patient has declared an intention to harm other persons. When such declaration has been made, the administrator may authorize the release of sufficient information to provide adequate warning to the person threatened with harm by the patient. These law enforcement purposes include (1) legal processes and otherwise required by law, (2) limited information requests for identification and location purposes, (3) pertaining to victims of a crime, (4) suspicion that death has occurred as a result of criminal conduct, (5) in the event that a crime occurs on the premises of the practice, and (6) In emergency circumstances to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

Military and Veterans - When the appropriate conditions apply, we may use or disclose protected health information of individuals who are Armed Forces personnel for the purpose of a determination by the Department of Veterans Affairs of your eligibility for certain benefits.

National Security - We may also disclose your protected health information to authorized federal officials for conducting national security and intelligence activities, including for the provision of protective services to the President of the United States or others legally authorized.

Workers' Compensation - Your protected health information may be disclosed by us as authorized to comply with workers' compensation laws and other similar legally-established programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Coroners - We may release health information to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death.

Research - Information from clinical records may be used for statistical and research purposes if the information is abstracted in such a way as to protect the identity of individuals.

Inmates - The client is committed to, or is to be returned to, the Department of Corrections from the Department of Children and Family Services, and the Department of Corrections requests such records.

Required Uses and Disclosures - Under the law, we must make disclosures to you when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine our compliance with the requirements of Section 164.500 et. seq.
